

Potentially affected species by EDP's activities and its minimization and compensation measures, in the USA

Species		RL IUCN (2005)	Endangered Species Act.	Company Initiatives
Scientific name	Common name
Tympanuchus cupido	Greater Prairie Chicken	VU	Endangered	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>&gt; On-site and Offsite Mitigation:</li> <li>&gt; Support National Wind Coordinating Collaborative (NWCC) Greater Prairie Chicken study with KSU;</li> <li>&gt; Voluntary offsite habitat restoration program: 8100 hectares of grassland bird habitat restoration, from which 5265 hectares under permanent conservation easements;</li> <li>&gt; Long-term habitat improvements.</li> </ul>
Aquila chrysaetos	Golden eagle	LC	Species of Concern	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>&gt; Telemetry monitoring</li> </ul>
Centrocercus urophasianus	Greater Sage-Grouse	NT	Candidate	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>&gt; Multi stakeholder collaboration (U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Geological Survey, The Nature Conservancy, The Wyoming Outdoor Council, Audubon, several state wildlife agencies and universities) to conduct research on potential wind energy impacts on the Greater Sage-Grouse in the United States.</li> </ul>
Buteo jamaicensis	Red-tailed Hawk			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>&gt; Funding a research project on fledgling hawk mortality at wind projects</li> </ul>

CR - Critically Endangered
EN - Endangered
VU - Vulnerable
NT - Near Threatened
LC - Least concern